

MAIL BID SALE #66 ~ SECOND LAST!

Hello, Society members! MBS #66 is here, an unusually large sale with many great deals. As you may know, I am winding up my career as Mail Bid Sale manager. After this sale there will be one final sale, MBS #67, appearing in the Nov/Dec newsletter. Since no successor has come forward to take over, the sales under my supervision will end with MBS #67. For this reason PLEASE DO NOT SEND ANY MORE MATERIAL FOR THE MAIL BID SALES. I have enough for the final sale. Any material not used in a sale or any items unsold will be returned to its owner. Thank you for your support and friendship over the years. Enjoy this sale!

Mike Crump, MBS manager

Many stamp collectors take up the hobby because of a family member, usually a parent, dabbling in philately. In a roundabout way, society member Jim Johnson did just that, albeit it wasn't the normal way kids get interested. Jim got a steamer trunk filled with stamps and accessories from his father when he was a youngster. A really big steamer trunk.

His father, not a collector himself, was the credit manager for the Rosnow Company, a Chicago engraver and publisher. Rosnow and the local All Nations Stamp Company purchased 15 tons of stamps on a 1930 European buying trip. Jim's father coordinated the stamp shipment.

The endeavor was prompted indirectly by a contest held annually by newspaper stamp editors across the country. The Chicago Tribune's stamp columnist apparently decried the low supply of philatelic material in the region, thus prompting the overseas venture. In turn the massive purchase would make "good copy" for the columnist, and with it perhaps produce the winning entry in the national philatelic writing
